SYNOPSIS & SHOW COPY
Marketing By-line	Rhythm, labour, transformation
Short Description	Real stories from the shearing shed meet powerful live music in a compelling experience, featuring video interviews with Wheatbelt shearers and wool handlers.
Long Description	SHEDS is a striking live music and documentary experience inspired by the people and rhythms of the shearing shed. Featuring projected video interviews with Wheatbelt shearers and wool handlers, the performance blends real stories with powerful live music shaped by the sounds of shearing — from the click of hand shears to the hum of machinery and the sweep of wool across the boards. Created by filmmaker Leith Alexander and award-winning composer/collaborative director Corrina Bonshek, SHEDS brings audiences closer to the lives, humour, skill and resilience of regional communities. Documentary footage, evocative imagery and immersive music combine to create an experience that is moving, atmospheric and deeply Australian. Both intimate and cinematic, SHEDS invites audiences to experience the shearing shed in a completely new way.

REVIEWS & FEEDBACK
“Just amazing — I wish more people could experience this.” “The performance was absolutely mind-blowing, with beautifully crafted and unforgettable moments.”
